

A reality check

In the past decade (1998-2008) America has been radically transformed. This was foisted upon us by supurb con-men, without our knowledge or consent.

Once considered by many to be the guiding light of the world, we are now scorned, and feared and pitied by other nations. America has become what we used to despise in others: a lawless, corrupt, greedy and vengeful dictatorship.

Look around—our nation's collective conscience has all but vanished, our souls are wounded by the crimes that have been perpetrated in our names.

Observe the disintegration of the American dream at the hands of treasonous, sociopathic leaders. Consider the privatizing of water and local food production, the out-sourcing of jobs to asia, rampant corporate crime at the highest levels, torture of political prisoners and U.S. citizens, the devaluation of property and US currency, withdrawal of gold and silver coins from general circulation, the evisceration of the Constitution and Bill of Rights, and the expansion of police state powers in every facet of our lives.

Our loved ones, neighbors and communities are under increasing levels of stress. This is what happens when one's way of life and culture begin to disintegrate!

The American dream is unraveling around us. It may be too late to save America, but we can take the best of ourselves with us and build our own New World Orchards.

We all need to turn off our TVs, and turn our backs to the media hydra. This eliminates the elite's primary source of mind control programming.

We must wake up to the harsh realities of our situation, and act in our own self-defense before it is too late. We must prepare mentally, materially and spiritually if we are to face what is coming our way, and to survive as a people.

The prime suspects

Until recently most of us haven't really understood how this rapid degeneration could possibly occur, and who, if anyone, were actually responsible. But we are waging up to the fact that we have been snookered on a grand scale.

It has become increasingly difficult to ignore that the world really is being run by a tiny segment of the global population: roughly 6000 wealthy and powerful people, or one out of every one-million people on the planet. The fact is they have been ruthless, cunning, bloodthirsty, and sociopathic while pulling off this silent conquest. Many books have been written that identify the elitist culprits, and prove the extent of their devious plans and successes.

These subjects are beyond the scope of the subjects dealt with in this book. This book is for those who already know that the jig is up, and that the elite are responsible. This book was written for those who want to prepare for the coming chaos, and hopefully, do things to make our lot better.

Unfortunately for the global elite, a number of their victims escaped, and survived to become whistle-blowers, exposing the dark hearts of the elite to the light of day. Their names include: Cathy O'Brien, Arizona Wilder, Brice Taylor, and many others. High ranking members of the elite also defected to the brighter side: Leo Zagami, James Casbolt, Svali, Fritz Springmeyer, and John Todd.

So we know a lot about the plans and methods of the Global Elite, and as is said: forewarned is forarmed.

This is very dark stuff. But fear not reader... light is dawning, and darkness flees before the dawn. We have identified those responsible for countless atrocities and crimes against humanity, and what can be done to expose and correct the wrongs.

Just how far down does this rabbit hole go?

Most of us would willingly agree that our lives have transformed dramatically in recent years. Just how deep are these changes, and how much do they affect us directly and personally? In order to explore these crucial questions, readers should truthfully ask and answer the following questions.

- Are you aware of recent legislated infringements upon your constitutional rights?
- Does the erosion of your personal privacy, and increasing levels of government surveillance and the expansion of police state powers and presence alarm you?
- Do you hesitate to protest governmental wrong-doings due to fears of reprisal?
- Are you worried that your ancestry, chosen life-style, religious beliefs or political affiliations put you at increased risk from a government run amok?
- Do your family, friends and acquaintances appear mesmerized by mainstream media propaganda and are highly resistant to the truth?
- Does the suspicion that America is becoming an authoritarian police state fill you with despair?
- Do you see the America's economy is spiraling down the drain, and feel that another great depression has already begun?
- Have you considered migrating to another country because of the downward spiral, and tattered economics in the U.S.?
- Do you believe that the presidential elections of 2000, 2004 and 2008 were rigged?
- Do you suspect that the attacks of September 11, 2001 were an "inside job?"
- Do you feel that America's invasion of Iraq was unjustified, and has actually increased the international threats of terrorism?
- Do you foresee an upcoming war with Iran, Russia and China, but feel powerless to stop it?
- Are you frightened by the possibility that elite are leading us into global war?
- Are you afraid that someday jack-booted thugs from Homeland Security or Blackwater will show up at your door?

If you answer "yes" to any of these questions then you are becoming aware of the harsh realities of living in the emerging New World Order. If even a few of the answers to the previous twelve questions prove to be true, then we have reason to worry.

If you answered "yes" to most or all of the key questions, then you are a realist with keen observation. You can consider yourself well informed about the dangers now confronting us. If this assessment seems overly pessimistic or even paranoid, do yourself a big favor... turn off your TV, and start thinking for yourself.

Enter the Matrix

The post-911 world is a far different place than the one in which we grew up. Gone are the illusions of American superiority and invulnerability. Shattered is the belief that we still live in the “land of the free and home of the brave.”

Our once kindly Uncle Sam has devolved into a ignorant, bullying big brother. We are trapped in a nightmare that we can't seem to wake up from, a waking dream that the inhabitants of Orwell's 1984 could have scarcely imagined.

We are existing in a world where shanghaied citizens are being recycled into armies of mindless drones. Once we were held as good and valuable citizens. Today our leaders treat us as mindless bovine consumers, each one a potential enemies of the state.

The cherished American Constitution has been repeatedly ravaged by the Bush administration. It is traumatized, critical and on upon life support. Our former rights and freedoms have been buried under the smoking debris of skyscrapers, thousands of flag-covered coffins, four thousand American Servicemen, and one hundred thousand corpses of innocent Iraqi men, women and children.

We have lost our inherent rights to privacy, are under rapidly increasing surveillance. The political system of checks and balances has been badly damaged. The Court systems are a mockery of their former impartial justice and equality. Senators and congressmen no longer even pretend to represent the interests of their constituents.

Voting fraud was so pervasive in the 2000 and 2004 elections that many consider the electoral system to be damaged beyond repair. Despite heroic efforts to reform the electoral process, it will likely remain fundamentally corrupted. It is inevitable that the vote will be heavily manipulated in the 2008 elections. If this is true, then we have apparently forfeited our right to vote in fair and accountable elections.

Many of us are committed to working within established systems to get America back on track. We believe that if we hold true to our traditional systems of law and democratic process that we will eventually prevail. But our successes have been feeble and sporadic. Honesty and integrity puts us at a severe disadvantage in the world of political corruption and white collar crime. We insist on playing by the rules... but our opponents do not. Many well-meaning individuals have discovered that the deck is stacked against them when they do try “working within the system.” In doing so, our leaders have deeply wounded the heart of our nation.

Another option to consider

America has become a bitterly divided nation. Those of us who do not support the present U.S. administration see the ethical divide as a chasm so wide that bridging it has become nearly impossible. We have essentially become two entirely different cultures somehow occupying the same land, each bitterly opposed to the other. History shows that continuing on this path has always led to disaster... to civil war or worse. This may be a major operation in the Elite's Master Plan.

The Invisible Hand of the Elite

Before being tempted to assign blame to one side or the other, we should consider a third possibility. What if neither side, the far right or the left is responsible for the cultural friction spreading like wildfire within the United States? What if we have been skillfully manipulated into opposing one another by an unseen and unsuspected enemy? As unlikely as this might first seem, it is a plausible theory. Researchers who have carefully studied the history of the Ruling Elite have found that this 'divide and conquer' strategy has been frequently used to get their foes to eliminate each other.

By instigating "false flag" operations against both of their adversaries, agents of the Elite ignite tensions between their enemies. They continue adding fuel to the flames: a bombed mosque here, a slaughtered kindergarten there, until their foes declare all-out-war, and eventually eliminate one another. The Elite have become skillful at causing these conflicts, and profiting mightily through the sales of weapons, munitions and supplies to both sides.

If this theory is correct, and this "divide and conquer strategy" is actively being employed against the people of the United States (and the rest of the world as well) then it is crucial that we learn as much as possible about those responsible. We need to know precisely who they are, and to understand their motivations, methods, and ultimate goals. We must analyze their strengths and weaknesses in order to find the best ways to defend ourselves.

Are the Ruling Elite for real?

Does an international Ruling Elite actually exist? Or is it just the product of the feverish imaginations of conspiracy theorists?

This author believes that it is all too real. There exists a veritable mountain of excellent evidence, and first-hand accounts, that this is not just some stock conspiracy theory. It is verifiable conspiracy fact!

A number of distinguished authorities, world leaders, authors, and investigators have independently concluded that a powerful secret cabal does indeed exist.

According to the best intelligence available, this international global cabal actively manipulates world events from behind the scenes. They are said to be committed to global enslavement, world conquest and the establishment of a totalitarian one-world government. Their master plan includes a global military force, a single currency, and a monotheistic world religion rooted in Luciferianism.

If each of these assertions were explored in great detail, the reader's fundamental world view will shift abruptly.

At the end of this section one of two things will likely occur.:

1. Readers will feel like I am preaching to the choir.
2. A paradigm shift in the reader's consciousness will occur, forever shifting their world view.

Or, 3. The reader will be overwhelmed with confusion and fear, rationalize that these are the writings of a madman, put down the book and bury their head back into the sands of denial.

Becoming Dis-illusioned

For those courageous enough to pursue the truth, the following section will show conclusively that we have been confounded by illusion for a long time. We will find that reality is not what it appears to be, nor are we.

The next section of the book is about waking up from the illusions imposed upon us by the skillful manipulation of the Elite—in essence to become dis-illusioned. This is the springboard that will launch willing readers bravely into the unknown. Readers may learn that they are far more powerful than they have been led to believe.

When one enlightened individual starts co-creating, the results are amazing. When a group of such light-minded individuals combine their power to find solutions to pressing problems, nearly anything is possible.

The Dangerous Truth

Countless heroes have made it their life's work to bring this evidence to light, many of whom paid the ultimate price with their lives. The secretive Elite have not hesitated to eliminate those who threaten their plans.

I have put myself at some small risk by publishing this material, but the enemies of mankind are presently besieged on all sides. It is easy to slip one through when the opponent is punch-drunk.

I do accept the consequences. But there is strength in numbers. The more people who discover the truth, the safer it is for each of us on the front lines. We are many and they are few.

It is vital that readers have access to all of the facts before making up their minds about these controversial issues. This is not possible if one relies exclusively on the content of mainstream media, which is carefully processed to mislead, brainwash, inflame, and frighten the masses. Luckily, the internet is still viable as a vehicle for the truth.

Those who refuse to think for themselves have become willing accomplices to the ruling elite and partners in their quest for world domination. Just consider what happened to media luminaries such as Bill Moyers and Dan Rather. Both chose to stand against the dictates of the Bush regime. They were both fired and blackballed within the media. They have been relegated to the mainstream media boondocks, but will undoubtedly soon be back in the limelight, once the Bush cronies are gone.

In today's complex world information equals power. It is managed, filtered, manipulated and disseminated to persuade public opinion, influence votes, control economics, politics, diplomacy, and international relations. The elite use information as a strategic weapon, and as munitions of the mind. Those who direct the course of mainstream media control this powerful propaganda machine.

To stay well informed, one must turn one's back on mainstream media, and seek access to alternative informational sources. This site will help to direct readers towards reliable independent sources, and to find the truth amidst the rivers of lies and disinformation.

The Ruling Elite are formidable foes. They have gained control of the most powerful nations on Earth, dominate politics, dictate government policy, and control the media. They own over half of Earth's precious resources and intend on acquiring the remainder, one way or another. The Elite are not restrained by ethics, morality or due process. They do not play by the rules.

When we consider the enormous power and influence of the Ruling Elite, and the immensity of the problems that are now confronting us, it is natural to become overwhelmed. It is easy to understand why so many people have chosen denial instead of courageously confronting the real issues and culprits.

But we must not give up. The future of our children depends upon the actions that we take today. We can act now and prepare for the bumpy road ahead, or be condemned to live the remainder of our lives as faceless drones inside the hellish New World Order.

Let us board the freedom train together. Let's search for the truth and see where it will lead us.
